The Prevention Workforce Core Competency Training will cover the knowledge, skills and abilities needed to implement each of the five domains of the Strategic Prevention Framework and the cross-cutting areas of culture and sustainability. The training will provide an overview of these competencies and will also provide resources for further building participant capacity in each competency area. In addition, the domains determined by the Prevention Specialist Job Task Analysis conducted by the International Certification and Reciprocity Consortium will be covered, along with the tasks, knowledge and skills for each domain. These domains are the basis for the IC&RC Prevention Specialist Exam.
